

Durham
University

Institute for Medieval and Renaissance Studies

Rebels in Medieval and Early Modern Europe

April 28-29 2011

Venue: Seminar Room 1, Department of History, University of Durham

Thursday 28 April

6.30-7.30pm Reception hosted by the Institute for Medieval and Renaissance Studies
(University of Durham)

7.30pm Evening Meal

Friday 29 April

9.00am Introduction: Christian Liddy (University of Durham) and Jelle Haemers
(University of Leuven)

9.30-11am Panel 1: At what point did rebellion begin?

Other possible questions to consider: What distinguished rebellion from other kinds of collective action? When did collective action become subversive?

Speakers: Daniel Bellingradt (University of Erfurt); Patrick Lantschner (Christ Church, University of Oxford)

Respondent: Jan Dumolyn (University of Ghent)

11-11.30am Coffee

11.30-1pm	Panel 2: Was there a popular rebellious discourse? Other possible questions to consider: To what extent did elites and commons share the same discursive space? What was the relationship between religion and rebellion? When did speech become subversive? Speakers: Jesús Angel Solórzano Telechea (University of Cantabria); John Arnold (Birkbeck College, University of London) Respondent: Ian Forrest (Oriel College, University of Oxford)
1-2.30pm	Lunch
2.30-4pm	Panel 3: Was there a difference in the nature of popular rebellion between the Middle Ages and the Early Modern period? Other possible questions to consider: When was the major divide in popular revolt, and why? Why are women more visible in post-medieval revolts? Speakers: Andy Wood (University of East Anglia); Sam Cohn (University of Glasgow) Respondent: Len Scales (University of Durham)
4-4.30pm	Coffee
4.30-5.30pm	Concluding Thoughts: John Watts (Corpus Christi College, University of Oxford)
6.30pm	Evening Meal

List of Participants

John Arnold [j.arnold@bbk.ac.uk]

Daniel Bellingradt [dbellingradt@aol.com]

Samuel Cohn [s.cohn@history.arts.gla.ac.uk]

Jan Dumolyn [Jan.Dumolyn@ugent.be]

Ian Forrest [ian.forrest@oriel.ox.ac.uk]

Jelle Haemers [Jelle.Haemers@arts.kuleuven.be]

Patrick Lantschner [patrick.lantschner@chch.ox.ac.uk]

Christian Liddy [c.d.liddy@durham.ac.uk]

Len Scales [l.e.scales@durham.ac.uk]

Jesús Angel Solórzano Telechea [jesusangel.solorzano@unican.es]

John Watts [john.watts@ccc.ox.ac.uk]

Andy Wood [Andy.Wood@uea.ac.uk]